Rule 8.—On the transfer of a prisoner from one Jail to another, all property belonging to him shall be sent with him.

Rule 9.—When a prisoner is, on admission, brought before the Superintendent, it shall be his duty to see that all money, jewellery, clothing, and property brought with or found upon him, have been duly entered in the register, in the manner above provided. These entries shall be read over to the prisoner in the presence of the Superintendent, his property, at the same time, being shown to him. If the entries and articles are acknowledged to be correct, he shall be required to sign or mark the register in token thereof, and the Jailor shall also initial the entry in token of having received the property into his charge. From under-trial prisoners, all property except clothing, personal ornaments, papers and letters, shall be removed and dealt with as above. Provided that the caste threads of Brahmins or other thread-wearing castes, and the tali of a woman, shall in no case be removed.

Rule 10.—On the release of a prisoner, all property shown as his in the register shall be made over to him in the presence of the Superintendent. An entry of the delivery shall be made in the register, and the prisoner shall be required to affix his mark or signature against it, which shall be attested by the Jailor and Superintendent.

Rule 11.—In the event of the death of any prisoner in Jail, either by natural causes or under the extreme penalty of the law, all property belonging to him in custody in the Jail, shall be sent by the Superintendent to the Magistrate of the District to which the deceased belonged for disposal. The wishes expressed by any dying prisoner about his property should be mentioned to the Magistrate, in the forwarding letter, and particulars regarding the Court by which the deceased prisoner was convicted, the date of conviction, nature of sentence, &c., should be given, as will enable the Magistrate to trace his relations.

Rule 12.—(a) When property of released under-trial prisoners has been left unclaimed by them for a period of six months, it should be sent to the District Magistrate for being returned to the owners or their relations.

(b) Property, which by some accident cannot be traced to their owners, should be sent to the District Magistrate for disposal, after a period of six months.

Rule 13.—Whenever the clothing of any prisoner has been destroyed or sold under Rule 5 and the proceeds of sale are not sufficient to purchase other clothing for him to leave the Jail decently clad, he shall be provided with suitable clothing at the expense of Government.

Rule 14.—No Jail officer or other person in any way connected with the Jail shall be allowed to receive or use any article of any kind or description belonging to a prisoner, whether given to him or not, either before or after the prisoner's release.

Rule 15.—The Jailor is responsible for the property being found to tally with the entries in the register on the prisoner's leaving the Jail, and if any property is found missing, he shall be liable to reimburse the prisoner to the extent of the value of the property found missing.

Rule 16.—Property of any kind found on a prisoner, after his being searched on admission, shall be forfeited and carried to the credit of Government, but the Superintendent, with the sanction of the Inspector General of Prisons, may grant a suitable reward to the informer or other person who was instrumental in detecting the concealed property.

Rule 17.—It shall be the duty of the Superintendent of a Jail to examine half-yearly, on the 1st day of January and the 1st day of July in each year, the Property Register with the properties actually in store, and to satisfy himself as to the properties being correctly preserved for and on account of the prisoners concerned, and to report the result to the Inspector General of Prisons in such form as may be prescribed for the purpose.
